LULLABY.

We've wandered all about the upland fallow, We've watched the rabbits at their play, And now good night, goodnight to you, dear day, Now good night, goodnight, dear day.

Puppy heads are closing fast, pigeons circle home at last, Sleep, hiechen, sleep, the bats are calling, Fawns never miss the light, but sweet babes must sleep at night, Sleep, hiechen, sleep, the dew is falling.

Eyes wind among the quiet willows, Rest, and the eye is sweet too, See soft white linen, cool, such cool white pillows Wait in the darling room for you.

All the little chicks are still; now the moon peeps down the hill, Sleep, hiechen, sleep, the owls are hooting, Sleep, hiechen, sleep, the stars are shooting, Ford M. Barker in Little's Living Age.

Jack's father and mother were having a very heated discussion at the table one day. They entirely forgot him, and as the argument waxed fiercer he looked from one to the other with real concern on his chubby face. Presently during a lull he cleared the air by asking, pointedly: "Papa, did you marry mamma or did mamma marry you?"—Brooklyn Life.

It is Written.

"So!" said Mr. Upjohn in his most witheringly sarcastic manner. "Johnny gets all his good qualities from you, and all his bad ones from me, does he?"

"Certainly," answered Mrs. Upjohn, triumphant but calm. "Doesn't the Bible expressly say that the sins of the fathers are visited upon the children?"—Chicago Tribune.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS.

Yesterday the JOURNAL presented its opinion of the pretended leadership of the Democratic party by the gold standard bolters who served as a contingent to the Republican party in the Presidential campaign of 1896 and 1900. Today it will review the reverse of the medal and give its views in regard to the party.

The principal cause of disagreement has been the silver question. While it did not, in any respect, "disorganize" the party, it cannot be denied that it caused the diversion of some of its most prominent members. While those of us who believe in constitutional bimetalism have not, and will not, abandon our convictions, we cannot wholly disregard the facts or the results. It may be that the accomplishment of the desired end will be delayed until the country has been taught an expensive lesson; such as a falling off of the gold product, failure of crops, monetary stringency or even general distress from some now unanticipated cause, to vindicate our position and to prove that it is not only constitutional but practically right. When that time shall arrive, which it is pretty certain to sooner or later, the Democratic and Silver parties will be found at their post, under the same standard as now, ready with the only specific bimetalism—that can be successfully applied to the complication of ailments.

At least ninety per cent of the entire Democracy of the country are bimetalists and the principle of bimetalism will never be abandoned, although it may for a time remain in abeyance. Unless the conditions change it is hardly probable that it will be wise policy to make the silver question the leading issue of the next campaign. It would be folly to ignore the fact that we polled a smaller popular vote in 1900 than in 1896. While none of us will abandon the principle for which we have honestly contended, nor profess to have abandoned it, to regain recalcitrants; if convinced by the logic of events, upon our own motion we deem it expedient to construct our next national platform in some respects different from the last two, so that it will be satisfactory to ourselves and at the same time to those Democrats who have honestly differed with us, is there any reason why we should not avail ourselves of the services they might render?

We believe with Hon. S. T. W. Latham of Texas as staunch a silver man as ever breathed, that the dissatisfied element should be encouraged to assimilate with but not to absorb us. Like him we greet with the utmost respect those gold standard Democrats who in the last campaign stood with the party, notwithstanding their different personal views in regard to the financial question. We mean such men as Hill, Olney and Cochran and others like them, who rallied to the scene in the presence of danger to our common country and its institutions. These men have atoned for their error in 1896 by their fidelity in 1900, and have by their acts entitled themselves to recognition and voices in Democratic councils. But it is the traitors of the latter as well as the former campaign who are most persistently pushing themselves forward, not as advisors but dictators to the party. They would and they will be "set down" upon most effectually, and they will be given most distinctly to understand that their position, if any, in the party will be as followers, and not leaders. Like those we have mentioned, they have not washed their robes nor redeemed themselves. Unlike them disagreeing with one article of our creed they did not subscribe to the body of the faith as held by the majority, and follow the banner representing all of the other principles which they professed to cherish and uphold.

Those who voted for Bryan last fall owe no apologies to us, one, nor are any concessions due from his supporters. If any are made, it will be voluntary upon their part, and then only to the extent of laying the matter over until such time as circumstances will warrant and wisdom suggest its revival. In the meantime the loyal Democrats and Silvermen should manifest a disposition to encourage alignment or realignment with the party of all desirable elements which will tend to the promotion of honorable success.

LEVEL-HEADED REPUBLICAN.

Congressman Babcock, chairman of the Republican National Congressional committee, has convictions and the courage to express and act upon them. He is more talked and written about at the present time than any Congressman in the Republican party. He evidently knew what he was saying when he declared that there was an overwhelming sentiment in favor of taking the tariff off from articles made by trusts, in the great middle and extreme west, by the people generally. Republicans as well as Democrats. Although we have noticed no particular reference to it by the Republican papers of the Pacific coast, the leading papers of that party at Chicago and other sections of the middle west are now standing up strongly to the idea advanced by Congressman Babcock, and are particularly outspoken since the direct threat was made that Babcock should and would be punished for so outrageously kicking over the traces.

The Chicago Record Herald refers to the protest of the Home Market Club and the American Protective Tariff League against Babcock's efforts as so "perilous" as to be hardly entitled to serious consideration. It says further:

"What Congressman Babcock favors is a declaration of policy on the part of the national Republican party upon this question which will place it in line with the progressive, intelligent sentiment of the country, which undoubtedly favors a reduction of duty upon trust made articles."

"So long as the manufacturers themselves favor a revision of duties to the extent of lifting the protection from industries that are no longer 'infants,' it is perilous for the clubs and associations that ensist upon the protective propaganda to talk of deposing Congressman Babcock from his position as chairman of the Republican congressional committee merely because he has the courage to take advanced ground upon this question."

"The 'west,' as the eastern folks designate Illinois and all westward of it, has become an important factor in national politics and since it is avowing the sensible position as to continued protection to trusts, it is not unlikely that the eastern Republican bosses will give the matter their serious consideration. Nevada elects a United States Senator and Representative next year, and it's diamonds to dummies that no candidate for either place will be successful who is not absolutely pledged to the policy advocated by Congressman Babcock."

The Weekly Ledger has changed its day of publication to Monday. It will be issued every Monday morning, thus giving Reno a morning paper every day in the week. The change is a wise one on the part of the publisher, who has the JOURNAL's best wishes for his success.

Upon the authority of the Appeal the Carson papers will suspend publication until after the carnival. This seems to the JOURNAL a good deal like the closing down of a quartz mill on account of an over-abundance of ore from the mine.

Ex-President Harrison left property valued at $331,000. That would hardly be enough to buy dollar buttons for the president of a latter day trust. It represents Mr. Schwaab's salary for a little over four months.

RED FIRE AND OTHER FIRES

The Carnival wound up last night in a blaze of iridescent glory. The Mardi Gras was beyond expectation and comparison. Mirth and jollity are always advertised to reign on such an occasion, but this time it really was in evidence, and even more so.

Our carloads of Renoites assisted to block the sidewalks and fill up the streets of Carson. The fun began with the advent of Rex and his court. The King of Beverly drove the Queen from her throne and announced that Dull Care was a dead one.

The parade was a thing of beauty and a joy forever. The floats were gaily decorated, lights blazed, everybody shouted and the band played anything but a tune. Nearly all the crowd wore masks and many wore clown suits. Confetti was thrown with hands and badinage with voices.

As a incident to the parade, the decorations in front of Coler's store took fire, but the blaze was quickly mastered. However, a precedent had been established and Chinatown took a notion to ignite. Half a dozen buildings were destroyed before the pyrotechnics not on the bill were disposed of.

The Carnival is now a thing of the past, but it will live in pleasant memory.

TELEGRAPHIC

PARANCA, Pa., July 6.—The great steel strike is likely to be settled soon. The Union threatens to call out all the eighty thousand men employed by the United States Steel Corporation. This threat, it is said, will bring about a compromise.

NEWPORT, R. I., July 6.—In the thirty mile yacht race today the Constitution beat the Columbia by nearly ten minutes. The Independence was last on the run to the outer mark and was six miles from the finish when the time limit expired.

TELEURIDE, Col., July 6.—The compromise, which settled the trouble at the Smuggler Union mine today, is virtually a surrender to the Union men, they being given everything they desired.

The Ledger has changed its publication day, and will hereafter make its appearance on Monday morning of each week, thus giving Reno a paper each morning of the week.

CO-OP. STOCK-TAKING SALE.

SYRUP OF FIGS

An Excellent Combination.

The pleasant method and beneficial effects of the well known remedy, SYRUP OF FIGS, manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO., illustrate the value of obtaining the liquid laxative principles of plants known to be medicinally laxative and presenting them in the form most refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system. It is the one perfect strengthening laxative, cleansing the system effectually, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers gently yet promptly and enabling one to overcome habitual constipation permanently. Its perfect freedom from every objectionable quality and substance, and its acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels, without weakening or irritating them, make it the ideal laxative.

In the process of manufacturing figs are used, as they are pleasant to the taste, but the medicinal qualities of the remedy are obtained from senna and other aromatic plants, by a method known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO. only. In order to get the beneficial effects and to avoid imitations, please remember the full name of the Company printed on the front of every package.

CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP CO.
SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.
LOUISVILLE, KY. NEW YORK, N. Y.
For sale by all Druggists.—Price 10c. per bottle.

NO LIQUOR ALLOWED.

C. E. Bell stated to the Journal yesterday that so far as it lay in his power to prevent it, there would never be a saloon established in Westside City. If any of the men want to go on a spree they can come to me or the superintendent and get a leave of absence. Reno is near enough for saloon or any other business purpose. Our camp is really a suburb of Reno and, especially if the contemplated electric railway is built to the mines, there is no need to make of the camp a separate town. The Reno business people are good enough for us to patronize.

A lease that was executed April 1st is proof of that the mine owner said. The lease stipulates that the ground may be used for residence purposes, but it will become void if liquor is sold on the ground.

INJUNS GALORE.

"Who came down on this express last evening?" inquired the Journal's interviewer of John Madison Gray, mail clerk on the V. & T.

"Four cars of Indians," replied the interviewed and waxed eloquent, using the gestures for which this silver tongued president of the Reno Wheelmen's club is justly famous. "I tell you sir that during the continuance of the carnival there wasn't an Indian outside of Carson within the confines of the State."

After delivering himself of this ponderous sentence in deliberation and impressive manner Mr. Gray proceeded to give in detail a description of how the army of Redskins marched into the Capital city and out again.

H. C. CUTTING TELLS ABOUT RICH TONAPAH.

What the "Bonanza" Has to Say About This Recently Discovered Camp.

Henry C. Cutting has returned to Reno for a brief visit to his old friends. Henry has always had a host of these in sunshine and storm, but it is a noticeable fact that he has more this trip than ever before, at least it looked that way when he strolled down Virginia street yesterday and was saluted by every passerby.

Fact is, Henry is now a bloated capitalist, although it doesn't seem to have spoiled him any. He is the owner of the richest lease in Tonopah, has the deepest and most extensive workings, employs the greatest number of men in the camp and is the biggest ore shipper. Henry did not tell the Journal man all this, but the last issue of the Bonanza did. What Mr. Cutting told the reporter was substantially true.

"Butler City is destined to become a second Virginia City. Its mines are not only pay ones from the grass roots, but improve in extent and richness with depth.

"Of course it is ancient history to the people of Reno that the Butler group of eight claims has been sold to a Philadelphia syndicate for $335,000. They have paid $50,000 on the purchase price.

The buyers will continue at work on these claims until January 1st. They are extracting and shipping from 200 to 300 tons of bonanza ore each week and this output will be certainly increased before long.

"The company that purchased the principal group will erect an experimental ore treating plant immediately and will later build more extensive works. The water problem will soon be solved. There is an abundant supply of pure water about 30 miles away. A pipe line to the camp will be built.

A railroad to Tonopah is also contemplated. There is an easy gradient from Candelaria or Sodaville, each point being about 60 miles distant.

"Altogether the outlook for this new camp is gilt edged. It is a place where money will make money, although the labor market is overdone."

FROM THE BONANZA.

Yesterday the first payment of $50,000 down was made to the Tonopah Mining Company by the Philadelphia syndicate, the purchasers of the Tonopah mines, consisting of eight locations, all now being worked by leasers. The eastern capitalists who have safely and wisely invested their wealth in the above named mines before making the first payment sent Mr. John F. Anderson, a mining expert of note, and Mr. O. A. Turner, a practical mining man of Grass Valley, Cal., here to further examine the properties and ascertain positively if the richness and large permanent ledges do actually exist. While here both gentlemen made a minute examination of the property and the mines adjoining and after doing so Mr. Anderson stated to a Bonanza reporter that the discovery was not only phenomenal but the surface showings and the present outlook of the mines was the wonder of the 19th century.

"Before leaving the east, he said, I could not believe that such riches, both in richness and size, could exist. I was greatly surprised to find that the report sent by Mr. Turner to my associates had been found correct in every detail. Had he estimated the group to be worth $5,000,000 he would not have overdone it. The half has not been told of this rich camp. I want to say right here, the mines of Tonopah with their large permanent ledges are the richest in the mining west today."

COMPANY FORMED.

Mines in Dogskin Group Will be Worked by Emeralds Company.

Articles incorporating the Emeralds Mining Company were filed yesterday afternoon in the county clerk's office. This company is capitalized for a quarter of a million dollars. Twenty-five thousand shares at $10 each have been subscribed for. The trustees and principal stockholders are Wm. Webster, W. M. Gotwaldt, W. W. Webster, F. D. King and S. N. Webster.

A trust deed has been executed conveying to the company seven mining claims of the Dogskin group, situated on Fred's mountain, Dogskin district. The mines are known as Mastodon, Queen Sabe, Rabbit's Foot, Tip Top, Emerald, Copper Head and Copper Cent.

They were discovered in March, 1900, and since that time considerable development work has been done, exposing bodies of ore. Shipments were made last season of ore running well in gold, silver and copper.

The professors of mineralogy and geology of the Nevada State University recently visited the mines and pronounced the showing for copper one of the best on the coast. Development work will now be vigorously prosecuted and, if the ore bodies justify it, a smelter will be erected on the ground. The Emeralds Mining Company is a loose corporation. None of the stock is to be placed on the market.

A special menu has been prepared for dinner at the Riverside Hotel today. All the delicacies of the season will be served. Take your family there for dinner this evening instead of having your wife parboil herself over a hot stove.

WILL RENO WIN AGAIN?

The Chance This City Has in the Race With Garden City.

It is difficult to forecast the probable result of the race between the Reno Wheelmen and the Garden City Wheelmen on the 14th inst. from the result of the race between the Reno boys and the Capital City Wheelmen on the 4th inst.

It goes without saying that the Garden City Wheelmen are the best in California. In their fifty mile race with the Olympians last year they beat the Olympians a mile and a half. Just prior to their race with the Olympians the Reno boys beat the Olympians a mile and a half.

The following is the time made by the Garden City riders respectively in their race with the Olympians.

McDonald 12:32
Lowe 13:12
Barnes 13:12
Wines 14:18
Agnew 14:18
W. Smith 14:18
W. Smith 14:18
B. Downing 14:46
L. Downing 15:12
L. Downing 15:12

Not one of the Garden City team made the five miles in less than thirteen minutes and two of them were over 14 minutes. However, the Garden City team was never pushed by the Olympians. McDonald of the Garden City's jumped away from Smith of the Olympians at the start in the first relay and everyone of the Garden City riders made better time than his opponent in each succeeding relay, with the exception of W. Smith who was opposed to Bolger of the Olympians.

Should the Garden City riders adopt the same course that they did in their race with the Olympians and open a gap at the start the race would at once become a trial not only of speed but of endurance, the Reno riders having the high altitude.

In their race with the Capital City riders on the 4th inst. owing to the advantage of being accustomed to this peculiar tactics of the Capital City boys the speed and endurance of only two of the Reno riders were tested during the race; Mershon of the Reno's ran away from Chapman of the Capital City's in the first half of mile and continued to gain upon him throughout the five miles, being nearly a quarter of a mile ahead at the close of the relay. The advantage gained by Mershon, however, was lost in the next relay by J. Peckham of the Reno's. Stanley of the Reno's in a very pretty race with Backrath gave a fine exhibition of both speed and endurance. Both Mershon and Stanley made the five miles under 13 minutes. The relative ability of Mershon and Stanley as riders compared with that of other members of the team should be an excellent pointer to what the other members can do in the way of speed and endurance when fairly put to the test.

The writer understands that several of the other members of the team are as good as Mershon, and from the time made by Stanley and the well known ability of Keddie at least two of them are a little better; in fact it may be doubted whether there is an amateur rider on the coast that is the equal of Keddie. The greatest danger that Reno boys have to fear is one or two weak places.

Considering all of the elements of uncertainty about the coming race the Reno boys in order to win will have to train steadily, go to bed early and when they are thirsty drink cold water. A rider running a mile in three minutes makes a fraction over 20 feet to the second; each drink of cold water between this and the 14th will lower the time of the rider at least a second, drink nothing but cold water. The Reno boys have an experienced and excellent trainer on whose judgment they can rely both up and on the track.
